LUKENS SITE FOR HI SCHOOL IS ENDORSED

Mass Meeting Friday Resolves to Work for Its Selection

IMPROVEMENTS NOTED

Plan Parade to View Two Sites Now Before the Public

Friday evening a mass meeting was held at the Broadway school under the auspices of the East Glendale Improvement association, which was attended by representatives from all parts of the city. The purpose was to review the advantages of the Lukens site for the proposed new high school for which a bond election has been called for December 29. As a result of the arguments presented, the meeting unanimously recommended the site at the corner of Broadway and Verdugo road.

Comparison of this and the Gray site was made and it was shown that the Lukens site, which contains 21½ acres, has street improvement work of 1000 feet on Broadway and Verdugo road, and 100 feet on Colorado, fully paid. Arguments were also presented to the effect that it is more centrally located from the viewpoint of the entire union high school district than is the Gray site and that its nearness to main boulevards and transportation lines will be a great advantage.

For the better education of voters, a parade to view the two sites and their surrounding territory was planned for next Saturday afternoon, the committee of arrangements to consist of Mr. Young of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Siples and Ronald Elrod of Glendale, who will announce the route and time through local papers next week. Persons having automobiles who wish to enter the parade were requested to register with members of this committee, or with Mrs. M. L. Tight.

The congestion of the high school was vividly pictured and a strong plea was made for the voting of the bonds because their failure to carry will seriously cripple the school and hurt the district.

The association voted to hold its next meeting in the same place on Thursday next instead of Friday, and to invite the South Glendale Improvement association to be its guest. Following the open session a caucus was held to discuss campaign plans.

CHURCH FILM ASS'N HAS BEEN FORMED

Bible Diamas Will Be Produced About January First

With a party of seven others interested in the project Miss Alice Frank on Thursday motored to Otterbein, a settlement about midway between Glendale and Pomona to attend a conference at the Church of the United Brethren of the incorporators of the Church Film Association which plans to produce Bible dramas and other plays suitable for use by churches and schools.

From the reports there submitted it appears there are 20,000 churches which have moving picture machines without being able to get pictures that they are willing to run. To meet this demand the Church Film Associations has been formed. In Miss Franks' party was Mr. Hall who has been on the chautauqua circuit for 15 years, and who gave a fine talk. Mr. Edmonds, the president of the company, who has been a Sunday school man all his life, also made an excellent address on the moving picture as a valuable educational adjunct if rightly used.

Only those who have church affiliations can be actors or members of the association. Eventually Miss Frank expects to act in the pictures to be put on but at the present time she is helping to sell stock. About 200 persons attended the meeting.

If the movement is a success, the first film will be produced the first of the year. Fifty ordained ministers have been selected to act as a board of censors and select the pictures to be filmed, and pass upon them before they go out.

HARDING FAVORS BONUS DURING THIS SESSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Harding is in favor of a soldier bonus at this session of congress when the payments can be worked out in connection with the refunding of the foreign debt. Harding's stand on the bonus was revealed to three members of the house who recently called at the White House.

All Right to Call Boy a Kid But Not to Call Him a Lamb

Call a boy a kid and he doesn't object. Call him a lamb and you start a riot.

You will find an editorial on this in tonight's paper. You will find another on the fear of possible war, another on untaxable bonds and still another on relief in Russia. Rather a wide range of subjects but every night this paper gives you on its editorial page just such a variety.

Dr. Frank Crane says a third of life is spent in sleep. With this introduction he drifts into the necessity of careful study of dreams.

Henry James in his comment on the news of the day speaks of the killing of two policemen in Los Angeles. But he goes further and refers to the lawyers by trick and device defeat justice. He draws a lesson and says that crime flourishes because criminals are not punished.

In "The Listening Post" James W. Foley asks "Who Knows Life?" It forms the subject of a very clever article, one you will enjoy reading.

DUBLIN—Power of Eamon De Valera is ebbing.

DE VALERA POWER IS EBBING AS IRISH APPLAUD PACT

Irish President Is Denounced by Many Former Friends

DUBLIN, Dec. 10.—The power of Eamonn De Valera, "president of the Irish republic" is slowly ebbing as the political forces of Ireland mobilize for battle on the Anglo-Irish treaty. Even in extremist circles the downfall of the Irish president is predicted as the result of his stand against the peace pact signed with Britain by the Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries.

Many Catholic bishops pronounced themselves in favor of the treaty. Cardinal Logue was one of the chief leaders of the pro-treaty advocates. He declared:

"President De Valera acted unfairly when he issued a statement after the cabinet meeting. His attempt was to prejudice the decision of the Dail Eireann on the pact."

Michael Collins, as De Valera's popularity wanes, is coming to the fore as the "father of Irish freedom."

An interview with one of the extremist members of the Irish republican army, who has fought the British forces for years and could be considered decidedly "anti-English" revealed an unexpected sympathy with the new pact.

"I believe the boys who bore the brunt of the fighting and all our people as a whole, are unanimously in favor of this peace that our representatives have drawn up with England," he told the United Press.

He bitterly denounced De Valera, declaring:

"He was speechmaking safely in America while we were fighting with Collins and Griffith for our freedom."

ARREST ROSS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 10.—Former State Treasurer Harry S. Ross was placed under arrest here today following a grand jury indictment for felony charging him with mishandling state funds.

Private Enterprise Prepares For Entertainment of Future

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Prosperity Editor Glendale Daily Press

Glendale is running ahead of itself in some respects and behind in others. Provision for the entertainment of its citizens actually is in advance of population, though playgrounds for the young and public parks for all ages are unaccountably missing.

Contented citizenship calls for even more than surpassing scenery, unequalled climate and model home life. Amusement and recreation are healthy cravings of a progressive people. And such cravings will be found in Glendale as in less propitiously located communities.

John H. Gerrie

In preparations to gratify the desires of the public in this regard private enterprise has far outrun civic duty. The former visualized that which is coming and got ready to meet it. The latter either didn't see anything coming, or, if seeing, didn't do anything to meet it. "Let the future take care of itself" seems to have been the civic policy in relation to parks and public breathing spaces.

To illustrate the clearer vision and quicker action of private enterprise take the case of William A. Howe and the Glendale Theater. Some of the older realtors will tell you that Howe really started the big forward movement in Brand boulevard realty.

When he was looking around for an available theater site little more than two years ago he had his pick at around $100 per front foot. Already one theater was established here and some doubt was expressed as to whether Howe really would go ahead with his plans for a high class amusement house.

But, oh boy! When he began to build, how values of neighboring properties began to soar! The advance spread up and down the avenue, like waves that roll when a rock is thrown in the pool. And the advance has continued ever since. Not that it has not been justified. But the erection of a high class theater building strengthened confidence in the development of the business district of an already fast growing city.

Mr. Howe demonstrated his confidence by building in advance of the time. He gave to Glendale, then with half the population she has now, the largest and costliest theater building possessed by any suburban city in this state and among the best equipped in the entire country.

He foresaw, not a population of 20,000 or 30,000 but of 50,000 and eventually much more. He picked Brand boulevard and Broadway as the permanent business center of the city and backed his judgment with a building planned to cater to the larger population.

Even among regular patrons of the Glendale theater it may not be known that it possesses the largest ground floor seating capacity of any theatre in this state, namely, 1230; that it represents an investment of $180,000 and that the organ, valued at $80,000, cannot be duplicated outside the very largest cities in the United States.

Even in such details as heating and ventilation only the newest playhouses in the big cities can be looked to for comparisons. For example, large "typhoon" fans above the organ loft drive the heated air from two gas furnaces across the ceiling instead of over the floor and the same with cooling air, thereby obviating drafts near the floor of the house.

Patrons don't need to be informed, of course, that only the best pictures are shown at this house. The releases are from United Artists, Goldwyn, Realart, Fox, Vitagraph and Universal with vaudeville on the Bert Levy circuit two nights a week. When you go to the Glendale theater you sit in comfortable seats, every one of which commands full view of stage and screen and you are as reasonably assured in advance as you can be in such cases that you will be well entertained.

These facts are presented here simply to indicate how much more advanced and thorough are the preparations of private enterprise for the entertainment of the people than the preparations of delegated authorities. In fact, so far as public parks are concerned, there do not appear to be any preparations at all.

WHY?

COUNCIL DEMANDS SWORN AFFIDAVIT

Hereafter Charges Against City Employes Must Be Regular

Meeting as a committee of the whole on Thursday night after the regular meeting, the city council passed a resolution stipulating that complaints or charges against city employes must be filed in writing and sworn to before the council before that body will take cognizance of the charges. The council re-convened for a few minutes in the council chamber after the committee meeting and odopted the above resolution.

This action was taken to prevent casting of aspersions tending to prejudice members of the council against employes or heads of departments when the charges are only implied and not backed up by facts.

H. S. Firdlay was made chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

UNION LEADERS TO ASK FOR MEDIATION

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Union leaders asked for mediation today as 8,000 strikebreakers were barricaded behind the walls of the big packing plants. C. J. Hayes, president of the Amalgamated Association of Butcher Workmen, unofficially sent out a peace feeler when he suggested that arbitration by any fair minded person would be acceptable to the union workers, who have been on strike five days protest against wage reductions.

NEWTON OPENING ON BRAND FRIDAY WAS BRILLIANT

Hundreds Visited Electric Company Store, Many Innovations

One of the prettiest openings ever held in Glendale was held Friday afternoon and evening when the J. A. Newton Electric company opened their new store and office at 154 South Brand boulevard, in the Chamber of Commerce building. The interior of the store is finished in pearl gray and blue and is decorated for the holiday season in red and green festoons and poinsettias. In one window stands a large Christmas tree with many colored electric lights and beautifully wrapped packages. The firm received many wonderful floral pieces. Mr. Newton's employees presented him with an immense horseshoe made of carnations, corn flowers and ferns. Other pieces were received from directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Illinois Electric company, Westinghouse Electric company, Glendale Electric company, Safety Products company, Woodill & Hulse Electric company, Pacific States Electric company, Electric Corporation and the Glendale Evening News. During the evening a program was presented, solos being rendered by O. W. Andresen and H. L. Hyde. Miss June Britton, a 4-year-old miss, gave a clever recitation in the form of a congratulation speech to Mr. Newton.

The new store is very nicely arranged with offices on the mezzanine floor in the front part, the rear being used for a fixture manufacturing department. The main part of the store downstairs is used for a display room, the rear part being divided into four fixture display rooms. One displays very artistically the small living room fixtures, both candelabra and inverted light bowls, another breakfast room and bedroom fixtures; another the new rot-iron and polychrome chandeliers and the fourth one displays mostly silver and gold finished fixtures for both dining and living room. Back of these display rooms is the wiring-contracting department and the heavier repairing such as washing machines, vacuum sweepers, etc. A new feature is the quick service repairing department in the front of the store for all minor repairs. They have a fine display case with 50 different compartments for all supplies such as fuses, switches, etc. A very fine showing is made of every size electric globe from the two candle power Christmas tree bulb to the 1000-watt store lamp. These come in all sizes and shapes and are so arranged that each one may be lighted to show the customer how the lighted globe will appear. All show cases are lighted to show off their contents to better advantage. During the evening musical numbers were furnished by a five-piece orchestra composed of employes of the store. Various demonstrations were made such as ironing everything, even to georgette waists, on the electric ironer. The Royal vacuum sweeper was demonstrated, along with the Westinghouse electric range nad dishwasher and the free Westinghouse sewing machine. The opening proved to be one of great interest and it is estimated that about 1000 people passed through the new store.

COMPANY M WILL BE MACHINE GUN

National Guard Has Fine Meeting on Thursday Night

At the meeting of National Guard companies Thursday evening at the armory on North Brand boulevard, both companies were well represented.

Headquarters company employed the time to straighten up their equipment which had just arrived. Company M spent the usual time in drill, the first event being a close order drill, the non-commissioned officers being given opportunity to drill the company for a time as a try-out to determine their eligibility for advancement. All the men did good work.

Towards the end of the period a manual of arms drill down was held, all members starting together and the men dropping out as they made mistakes. They did so well that three men were standing when the drill-down came to an end.

Headquarters company has now received practically all of its equipment. Company M is now receiving the equipment which will change it into a machine gun company.

BARTON PATROL GO TO CABIN TONIGHT

As a reward for selling the most tickets for the benefit entertainment given recently by troop No. 2, Boy Scouts of Glendale, the patrol headed by Arthur Barton will be permitted to spend tonight at the cabin which the troop is building in Verdugo Woodlands on property leased to it by C. L. Chandler. Benjamin Robison, Jr., will be with them and the boys will doubtless have a jolly evening after a hard work out on the building in which all the members of the troop are participating. It is expected that the cabin will be dedicated during the Christmas holidays.

MAKING HAPPY KIDDIES WILL BRING GREAT JOY

In answer to many inquiries regarding the Christmas stockings for boys and girls who are to be made happy on Christmas, inquiries that show an interest in the plan and which indicate that there are scores who wish to comply with the request, this paper again briefly outlines the idea.

It is asked that all who feel they can afford to give a pair of stockings to some poor boy or girl this Christmas do so through the medium of this newspaper.

One of the stockings should be filled, just as Santa Claus would fill it. It should be a real Christmas stocking with nuts and perhaps an orange, maybe candy and trinkets dear to the heart of a child. There can be some little present too, carefully wrapped, for half the joy after all, is in opening the package.

It rests with you what shall go into the stocking—the one which it will be a joy for you to fill. You perhaps have children. If so, then you know what to put in. It should be filled with the things which your children would like to have.

This newspaper will see that the stockings are distributed on Christmas where they will do the greatest good to children who really need the stockings and who will glory and delight in the presents which are stuffed into one of the stockings.

You, no doubt, will welcome this opportunity to make some poor boy or girl happy on Christmas. It isn't much of a request to make of you. You will, without doubt, have as great a joy in filling this stocking for some unknown child as in any gift you make this Christmas.

PEOPLE CO-OPERATE WITH POSTOFFICE HOLIDAY RUSH

Supt. Hallett Says Patrons Have Done Well So Far

"The people of Glendale are co-operating with the postoffice department very well in the matter of mailing Christmas packages early," said Superintendent George Hallett Tuesday afternoon. He continued: "If the people will only remember that we are here to serve them to the best of our ability and want to help them get their Christmas presents east in time for the holiday they will do their best to help us in our work. It is better to have a Christmas present arrive a few days early than have it several days late. Do not figure the exact date to mail a package to have it arrive at its destination on Christmas day for there are so many possibilities of it being delayed in delivery.

"All postoffices and stations are crowded with Christmas mail and carriers and clerks are working at top speed to get it all delivered in time for Christmas and if the public waits until the last week or two before Christmas to mail their packages and cards it is easy to see the pile of mail that will accumulate in a few days and make it impossible to deliver all of it in time. I want to thank the people of Glendale for their co-operation and to impress the fact on them to mail their Christmas packages early. It is easier to stand in line a few minutes now than to spend possibly an hour standing in line the week before Christmas and that is what will happen if every one waits until the last minute to mail their packages and cards."

ROAD TO SUCCESS CREDIT ASS'N IS ON

These blanks when filled out will give the credit rating of the bulk of the trade that is met by the merchants of this city and will be of untold value.

Members of the organization are notified that the organization will start functioning on Monday and are urged to use the services of the bureau freely and other merchants who are not members are being urged to join.

CONFERENCE ADOPTS TREATY OVER PACIFIC

Four Great Natios Join in Agreement in Washington

CONSIDERED TRIUMPH

Displaces Anglo-Japanese Treaty of Years Standing

CONTINENTAL HALL, WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The arms conference today recorded in open session its first big success.

Senator Lodge presented the quadruple treaty between the United States, the British Empire, France and Japan, or the preservation of peace in the Pacific. It contains four main provisions:

1.—The powers agree "to respect their rights in relation to their insular possessions and insular dominions in the region of the Pacific ocean." If any dispute arises the powers agree to submit to a joint conference.

2.—If the rights of any power are threatened by the aggressive action of another, the powers agree "to communicate with one another fully and frankly in order to arrive at an understanding as to the most efficient measures to be taken, jointly or separately, to meet the exigencies of the particular situation."

3.—The agreement is to be in force for ten years from the time it shall take effect and to continue in force subject to the right of any power to terminate it upon twelve months' notice.

4.—The agreement is to be ratified as soon as possible in accordance with the constitutional methods of the various powers and is to take effect upon the deposit of ratifications in Washington. Upon such deposit, then Anglo-Japanese alliance is terminated.

LESLIE HENRY TO BE CHIEF ORATOR

Visitor From Pasadena for Dedication of New Chamber

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announces that the principal speaker of the evening for the dedication ceremonies to be held in the new quarters of the organization next Thursday night will be Leslie B. Henry of Pasadena. Mr. Henry is one of the most polished orators in Southern California and has chosen as his subject for the address to be given at the dedication of the new Citizens building and the quarters of the Chamber of Commerce "The Spirit of the New Building."

On Thursday the Chamber of Commerce rooms will be open to the general public from 4 p. m. until 6 p. m. The evening meeting will be for members of the organization and their families only. This is necessary as the assembly room of the chamber will only seat 600 people and a capaciyt attendance of members is expected.

SOLDIER SHOT BY OFFICER IS CLAIM

AKRON, O., Dec. 10.—Henry L. Scott, of Kenmore, an employe in a tire factory here, has detailed alleged outrages to American soldiers by an officer in France. Scott's written testimony will be incorporated with other evidence of Senator Watson.

Scott declared he saw Major Copley of the 116th infantry shoot down two soldiers. One of the Americans was killed in the Argonne forest while seeking shelter from a German bombardment, he said.

The other man, a runner, was killed the same day. The runner coming from the front with a message, was stopped by the major, Scott said. The man told the officer he had a message and no time to stop and started down the road, when Copley opened fire and the runner fell, Scott said.

AUTOMOBILE TAKEN WHILE SHOPPING

Upon returning the car was gone and he has been unable to get any trace of it since. The number of the machine is 179402.

KEEP COPPER WIRE YOU MAY NEED IT

Stray pieces of copper wire have many uses, but it is often necessary to straighten out wire that has already been used before it can be employed again. See that there are no sharp bends or kinks in the wire, and straighten out by hand any of these which are found. Fasten the end of the wire to some firm anchorage, grip it in the vise if necessary. Loop the other end of the wire around a hammer handle or smiliar instrument and then pull out the length of the wire. Repeat this operation as often as necessary. If the wire is soft copper, it will stretch a little, which improves it.

MOTOR TOURIST TO FIND CAMP HERE

Will M. Robinson Submits Plan to Chamber for Approval

Will M. Robinson, a member of the chamber of commerce and a booster for Glendale is planning another feature that will help make Glendale known to every autoist and traveler throughout the nation as one of the most hospitable as well as progressive of cities. He is to install a motor tourist campground on a 14-acre tract of land owned by him on San Fernando road between Colorado street and Broadway. He has submitted the plans for this campground to the chamber and that organization has approved them and is backing Mr. Robinson in his undertaking in every way possible.

Mr. Robinson plans to invest $25,000 in the proposition and make his site the most ideal automobile campground in the west. He plans to have an automobile campground with all of the conveniences of the most modern hotel. He will install bath rooms, toilet facilities, a dining room, places where cooking may be done and announces that space will be laid out to accommodate 400 cars. In addition to these sanitary installations he will build a large playground on the property for the children of campers who accept the hospitality of the campground.

Such a campground has been needed in Glendale for a long time to accommodate the hundreds of automobile tourists that pass through this city weekly. These camps have been operated successfully in other cities but not on the scale that Mr. Robinson proposes to conduct his place, and have proven of untold value to the city in the amount of free advertising that the city receives from the tourists. The plan has been successful in other cities and should be of equal value to Glendale.

BUSINESS PICKS UP SAYS LITZENBERG

"Business is constantly on the pick-up," says F. E. Litzenberg, proprietor of the Glendale Auto Wash Rack, at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Wilson. "In fact, it has picked up to such an extent that we are now compelled to take jobs by appointment. Our Simonizing process is proving unusually popular. The leading business men and other residents of Glendale are realizing the beneficial effect of this process to their cars, and as a result the orders for this process are coming thicker and faster every day. We are more than pleased with the way the people of Glendale are patronizing our wash rack. We turn out nothing but high class work—that is why our business is growing so rapidly."

THINGS COME GOOD AT JACK'S AUTO SHOP

"Everything is working fine," said Jack, proprietor of Jack's Auto Repair Shop, 233 South Brand Boulevard. "Business was never better. The people of Glendale are treating us royally, and in return we are trying to give them the best auto repair service obtainable in Glendale."

Jack is one of those good-natured fellows who believes in giving a man a dollar's worth for every dollar expended with him. He says he hung the "square deal" motto up in the first shop he ever conducted and he has never taken it down. Regular folks, he believes, appreciate honest and prompt service, and he attributes his success to the fact that he has played fair in every business transaction.

SAM BELCHER NOW WITH W. B. COX SHOP

Sam Belcher, who for the past two and a half years has been head mechanic at the Glendale Ford agency, has become affiliated with W. B. Cox in the Ford repairing business at 106-8-10 North Louise street. For several years Mr. Belcher has lived in Glendale and is known to the resident here as plain "Sam." Sam knows how to do one thing better than he does anything else in the world, and that is to repair Fords. For this reason he is right at home in the little repair shop on North Louise.

The name of the new firm will be Cox & Sam, and its motto will be "Better Work For Less Money." The proprietors say "You have tried the rest, now try the best."

HOME-MADE TOOL FOR WASHER REPAIRS

To remove the split-wheel washer that snaps into a groove in the hub of a front wheel and holds the thick felt washer in place over the inside bearing, the most effective method is to make this simple tool: Obtain a pair of round jawed pliers about five or six inches long. File a notch on the inside of each jaw, near the end and then reduce the diameter of the jaws until they will just slip into the holes in the end of the split washer. Having done this, it is a simple matter to remove the washer. Hook the ends of the pliers into the holes, close the pliers to contract the washer so as to draw it out of the groove, and then by running a screw driver around under the edge of it, it is easily slipped out.

TIGHTEN NUT IF WATER PIPE LEAKS

When the water pump begins leaking, do not assume that necessarily, it is because the nut is too loose. Frequently the nut is not to blame at all, but poor packing is the real cause of the trouble. Packing for this part consists of candle wick soaked in tallow, heavy twine similarly treated or special packing material. After the nut has begun to press the paking down, do not turn it further, as excessive squeezing is ant to damage some part of the body of the pump.

Clutch spinning is often due to excessive friction in the spring thrust bearing, though sometimes faulty alignment of the fly-wheel and clutch cone prevents the engaging surface from entirely clearing each other. A bent clutch shaft might also cause this trouble.

LOOK AT HOSE IF MOTOR OVERHEATS

Trouble from overheating sometimes comes from using old hose connections between the engine and radiator. Rubber hose when it becomes old has a tendency to loosen up between the layers of rubber and fabric. The inner lining is then likely to fold back when the hose is being replaced, covering the opening so that the water is retarded. It cannot be seen from the outside, but makes itself evident in overheating the engine. In a similar manner, pieces of the rubber will come loose and lodge where they cut off circulation.

GO SLOW TRUING UP WIRE WHEELS

In truing a slightly misaligned wire wheel, a close-fitting wrench or parallel pliers should be used on the nipples, and the operation should be performed slowly and evenly. A wooden block serves to steady the hand in chalking the "out" and "in" places on the wheel. The general principle is that tightening nipples on the outer rows of spokes throws the rim in, while tightening those of the inner rows moves the rim out. Nipples directly opposite those tightened should be loosened about half as much.

USE CARE ADJUSTING YOUR AUTO SPRINGS

When inspecting springs, the motorist should give close attention to the hangers and other subsidiary parts. Much lost motion, usually side play, will develop in the spring hangers and shackles. Quite frequently the bolts which pass through the spring eye will be worn nearly through in the course of a season's active running. Many cars have no lubricating equipment for these small parts, and they wear out rapidly under the stresses of travel.

KNOCK VERY GENTLY AND PLAY SAFE

When attempting to remove sprockets or other gear wheels from shafts to which they are attached by means of taper or plain fits and keys, care should be taken not to use the hammer too freely, for fear of either fracturing the gear or springing it out of line. A so-called "Pulley puller" or special jack may be contrived without difficulty and will remove the part without danger of breakage or strain.

ONE EASY WAY OF APPLYING CHAINS

To apply chains in the mud one must have two cross pieces from an old chain and a bit of rubber tubing, a little shorter than theh cross chains to protect the wheel spokes from injury. To apply the chains, lay these latter over the wheel and fasten the ends to the rubber covered cross chains which have been passed between the spokes. Apply the power to the wheels and the chains will be wound around the tires as is desired.

We Are the Ford Doctors in Glendale

Why take a chance? When you take your Ford to some garages it is the object of experiment by one or more "budding" mechanics. Some of these are right from the farm and they understand automobiles about as well as they do the operation of "the Great White Way." When they get through with it, it constitutes a real job for a real mechanic. So, why take a chance? When you bring your Ford to us we give you the experience of our years of experience in repairing to Fords. We do not experiment. After taking time to ascertain the cause of the trouble, we suggest the shortest route to happiness, which means a complete cure.

You've heard the saying, "The operation was successful—the patient died." Those who patronize my shop say, "The operation was successful—old Lizzie is on the road again."

We use genuine Ford parts only. We call for and deliver your car free of charge.

And we sell Hercules and Richfield gasoline and all grades of oil.

Have a Home By Next Xmas

Christmas is always a more joyful occasion if you have a home of your own in which to entertain your family, relatives and friends.

It is always possible to have a more homelike atmosphere in your Own Home than in a rented house. Partly on account of the real sentiment involved and partly—because in a rented place from which one may move at any time, there is not the incentive to use the care and the money in keeping everything in perfect order.

No other investment you can make will pay you the dividends in comfort and contentment as well as in (rent) money saved at home.

If you contemplate building during the next few months, we will be glad to offer you many helpful hints, offer a wealth of well arranged plans; can furnish you quality lumber and building material—and give you an efficient service at prices that will compare very favorably with those of other lumber and building material concerns.

RUBBER SOCCER WAS VICTORY FOR LOCAL SQUAD FRIDAY

Santa Monica Boys Defeated by Score of 3 to 1 in Deciding Game

The rubber game of soccer which the team of Intermediate played with Santa Monica's team on the home field Friday afternoon, proved a very pretty contest which ended with a score of 3 to 1 in favor of Intermediate.

Tom Meehan, the goal keeper, captured a penalty kick and stopped it, but was charged by the Santa Monica players, one of whom stepped on his head, putting him out of the game. From the penalty that resulted from the roughness of this attack, Glendale scored the first goal. In the second quarter Intermediate was awarded a foul and was able to kick a goal. In the third quarter Intermediate scored again and in the last quarter Santa Monica scored.

Gene Drury, Russell Abell, Wallace Haines and Jack Booker played a very good game.

This team is said to be the best that has ever represented Intermediate. The fine team work it has developed is its outstanding characteristic. While few of the boys are stars, their team work has reached such a degree of perfection that they have become an efficient scoring machine. Most of the games have been won by large scores, which is contrary to the usual experience of soccer teams in intermediate grades. In individual work, Jack Booker is an outstanding figure, and has been declared the best grammar school player who has been seen in Glendale for a long time.

Captain Gene Drury has also been a very responsible player throughout the year, being especially strong in defense. Tom Meehan has developed into a very good goal keeper. Allen Lovell, Russell Lavelle, John Copeland and Tom Muff, who are seventh grade boys, will form the nucleus of an even better team next year. Other boys have also done very good work and will probably get into the limelight next year.

ENTERTAINS MUSIC SECTION

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, with Mrs. C. L. Marlenee, curator, presiding, and Mesdames Roscoe Puffer and George D. Roach acting as assisting hostesses.

At a short business session the section voted that hereafter no member shall be permitted to bring a guest without first having secured permission from the hostess. The increase in membership of the section has made such a rule necessary to avoid embarrassment to hostesses.

Christmas furnished the motif for the program arranged by the hostesses and for the decorations, which included great pots of poinsettias and greenery.

Miss Gertrude Champlain played in splendid manner Handel's "Hallelujah" chorus from "The Messiah."

"Holy Night" was sung by Mrs. Charles A. Parker and Mrs. Frank Arnold in a room apart from that in which the section was gathered, the distance producing a very beautiful effect.

An outstanding feature of the afternoon was the program of harp numbers put on by a wonderful young harpist, but 14 years of age, Miss Grace Lauster of Long Beach, for whom a brilliant future is predicted. She played "Love Tales of Hoffman," "Holy Night," "Vesper Bells" (A. W. Holt), and a a musical recitation, "Dear Little Old-Fashioned Girl."

About 40 were present and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

AUCTION BRIDGE CLUB MET FRIDAY

The new auction bridge club which was organized two weeks ago at the home of Mrs. F. W. Rogers had its second meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maurice Bondaux on North Central avenue.

The ladies present were: Mrs. F. W. Rogers, Mrs. Harry Powers, Jr., Mrs. Chesley, Mrs. W. F. MacPherson, Mrs. Hilliard of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lester Jones, Mrs. A. A. MacIntyre, who substituted for Mrs. G. G. Blue, and the hostess.

Holly featured the decoration of the rooms and refreshment table and also adorned the place cards. A jolly social time was enjoyed during the serving of the refreshments and the club accepted the invitation of Mrs. Harry Powers to hold the next meeting at her home where the club will be christened with a name which has not yet been selected.

Truths in Epigram

Trust that man in nothing who has not a conscience in everything.— Laurence Stearns (1713-1768).

It has been a thousand times observed, and I must observe it once more, that the hours we pass with happy prospects in view are more pleasing than those crowded with fruition.—Oliver Goldsmith (1728-1774).

"FEAR POSSIBLE WAR"

Philip Francis, a newspaper writer of large ability and small conscience, translates his master's voice when he proclaims that England seeks a United States alliance because a new conflict in Europe is near. Over his preachment is the caption: "British Fear Possible War."

In a sense this is the truth. The British have had more than a taste of war. They are civilized. They are humane as the average race given to culture and progress. They are, as the others, sufficiently blessed with intelligence to know when they have enough. Any nation with its brains still unscrambled fears possible war; does all in its power to avert such a war.

England, France, the United States and Japan have entered into an alliance. They have entered with the friendliest understanding. There is a pledge of mutual protection involved. They, all of them, were afraid of a future war. Each sought by combining its strength with the others to fend off the possibility, be it near or remote.

For this alliance the United States is chiefly responsible. It grew out of the conference called by the United States with a view to bringing about exactly that which has been brought about.

The war which the rolling eye of Francis seems to catch, he gives a European setting.

Most of Europe is wrestling with the problem of how to get a square meal. Russia would like—that is Lenine and his following would like—to involve the whole world in war. But Russia is eating the bread of charity, and lacks both capital and initiative to manufacture the munitions of destruction. One party in Germany cherishes hatred such as might be expressed in drumfire were it not stifled by the circumstance of financial impotency.

There was a faint prospect of war on the Pacific, not elsewhere, of any magnitude. The alliance ends that prospect. The war Francis sees is in the mind of his employer.

BLAMING FRANCE

France is fearful of an attack from Germany some time in the future. It cannot be today nor tomorrow, but statesmen of ordinary discretion look far ahead. They also judge times to come by times that have gone, bearing in mind that human nature has not changed much in intrinsic quality. There have been changes due to new conditions and to expediency.

It would be impossible to blame France for its mental attiture. It is holding to the right to protect itself. It would be culpable were it to do otherwise. In common with the United States it longs for peace, but Germany is a different neighbor from Canada.

The common people of Germany do not want war. However, the spirit of the junkers persists. They keep the fires of hate burning. They will not let Germany forget or abandon the dream of conquest. They are led by such men as Ludendorff and Hindenberg, both whom there had been a cordial hope the allies would formally place on trial as murderers and hang.

But with the ending of the war the victors were ready to permit rancors to die. They leaned heavily to the side of mercy. Perhaps they were wise. It may be that ultimately the common people of Germany may dominate the military party. At present, however, France in failing to be alert on guard, would be guilty of dereliction. It is doing exactly what any other nation that desired to preserve its integrity would do. There could be no other course.

RELIEF IN RUSSIA

Russia must have 25,000,000 bushels of grain, or hundreds of thousands of people will starve. This is the word received from former Governor Goodrich of Indiana, lately inspecting that country. Some of the grain should be for seed, the rest for immediate food.

Krassin, a soviet envoy, also declares the needs of his country. He concludes: "So long as Europe and America remain hostile to the Russian government there can be no economic restoration in Europe or the world."

The difference in the spirit of the two pronouncements is discerned at a glance. One is the call of charity. The other is an aggressive demand, backed by implied threat.

The natural impulse is to relieve the starving hordes of Russia. This is due to moral obligation to help the distressed. Such obligation does not rest upon political conditions. Charity does not stop to inquire who is to blame, but hastens to apply the remedy.

Economically considered, the feeding of the Russians doubtless would be a wise move. To bring about the seasons of sowing and harvest would mean much to the food supply of more than Russians alone. It would release to useful pursuits energies of millions of persons ordinarily capable of producing some form of wealth.

The hostility to Russia of which Krassin complains is solely the fault of the soviets. The system, worse than mere failure, has been a ghastly and stupendous tragedy. It is impossible to be friendly with a government that is not a government, but a ferocious oligarchy, hating all the world, and trying to poison the minds of the generation, not of its own land only, but of all lands.

Such aid as Russia may receive will be not because of the present government there, but in spite of it.

UNTAXABLE BONDS

President Harding will be given credit for courage in expressing opposition to non-taxable bonds. Such bonds permit the holder to enjoy an income without the annoyance of having it taxed.

The general subject of income tax does not need to be debated in this connection. At present such a tax appears to be absolutely essential. If there is a better or fairer fashion of collecting money for support of the government, no statesman has yet arisen to announce it.

Non-taxable bonds naturally would be acquired by the individuals who in the absence of this method of investment, would be called upon to contribute heavily in taxes. Every such investment, however profitable in itself, must represent a loss to the public, and represent a burden to be shared by the comparatively poor citizen. The average American fails to discern justice in a regulation that helps his rich neighbor, but not only does not help the poorer man, but forces additional hardship upon him.

The reason why the attitude of the President is bold is that he could not have taken it without knowledge that by so doing he would be antagonizing powerful financial interests.

THE MATTER OF TITLES

A freckled-faced American youngster never objects to being called kid. The chances are that in speaking of himself and his comrades he would say "us kids." Call that same lad a lamb, and there would be as large a riot as he could be capable of inciting.

One might have supposed that to be placed among the sheep rather than among the goats, would be construed as a compliment. Never by the small boy, however. Not that he wants to be anybody's goat either. The term "kid" he considers of quite sufficient dignity.

Recently a wife complained in court that her husband called her a cow. She protested against this per se. The offense was greatly emphasized by the fact that at the same time the husband was calling her cow, he was calling a woman, wholly outside the domestic circle, his kid. The latter woman appears not to have been displeased.

The questions that arise perhaps belong to the domain of psychology. Why should "kid" be acceptable and "lamb" taboo? It is safe to inform a favored one of the gentler sex that she is a kitten, but tell her that she is a cat, and be prepared to run. Perhaps the maturity implied by "cat" is what causes the trouble.

However, this could not explain the resentment at being called "cow," for "calf" doubtless would be equally unacceptable.

Anybody with nothing else to think about might think about this.

Conviction of ten I. W. W. workers as syndicalists has just occurred in the courts of Los Angeles county. Considering the lawlessness now rampant, much of it in exact accord with the teachings of these prisoners, the outcome of the trials fairly may be regarded as a triumph of justice.

Large seizures of illegal narcotics are reported from time to time. Mere confiscation of the stuff does not meet fully the necessities of the case. The vendors of it deserve to be put where they can't engage in the nefarious business again.

A THIRD OF LIFE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A Third of Life is spent in sleep.

It is this Third of Life that forms the subject of a story by Perriton Maxwell.

It is a clever and convincing argument for the necessity of a careful study of dreams and their relation to life and character.

One picks up a book that has anything to do with dreams with a good deal of hesitation. So many useless and fantastic ideas about them have been promulgated that those of us who are concerned with the normalities of life, and who are anxious to keep out all suggestions of morbidity, are shy of the whole business.

I picked up Maxwell's book and expected to read probably the first chapter and the table of contents and skim through the rest, afterwards relegating the volume to the pile which the second-hand book-store man calls for regularly.

I was mistaken.

In the first place, I read the book clear through, from cover to cover, and at one sitting, which shows that to me at least it was an interesting story. It is not like any other novel I ever read. It violates most of the conventionalities of story-telling. And yet it has charm.

Nobody can tell what makes a story interesting, except that it contains that strange spark of genius that lures the reader on.

Besides being an interesting story, it is a sound and wholesome volume. With a thousand opportunities to run off into foolish and dangerous bypaths, it has stuck to its main contention and has carefully guarded against any suggestions of morbidity that might do harm.

The main danger that lies in giving importance to dreams consists in giving credence to the folly that dreams foretell the future. Concerning this, here is one passage from the book:

"Dreams afford no occult method of looking into the future; often they may seem to foreshadow what lies ahead of us, but as fallible prophets they are as impotent as the crystal ball of the professional fortune-teller."

In another place it is said:

"After all, nothing exists except what is registered on the brain, and that chiefly through the eye. The importance of our wakeful consciousness has, I think, been vastly overrated. Who dares say that the dream state is not what Nature really intended us to cultivate and develop, so that life might become more marvelous than it is, less bounded by physical restriction; or that our puzzling period of wakefulness is not primarily as a mere interlude during which to gather and store impressions for the larger life of dreams?"

On the whole, it is a delightful and refreshing book, an original piece of fiction with just enough serious purpose in it to keep it from being what most fiction is, chaff which the wind driveth away.

THE LISTENING POST

Who knows life?

The student says he knows it.

For he has studied it in all its phases and mutations.

Long hours and days he has spent in his study poring over manuscripts and tomes and documents.

* * *

From the first beginnings of civilization of which there is record he has studied it.

Through the ancient Assyrian and Babylonian and Syrian and Egyptian records as they have been discovered.

* * *

Then on through the Greek and Roman periods.

And through the Dark Ages.

He has followed Alexander and Xerxes and Cyrus and Philip and the Ptolemies and Caesar and Charlemagne and the mighty warriors of the world.

* * *

He has balanced effects and causes and weighed and considered and pondered and speculated and reflected and finally concluded.

And so the student says he knows life.

Nothing in the way of the written word has escaped him.

* * *

And then comes the traveler.

He says he knows life.

For there is no part of the world he has not seen.

He has trotted the globe untiringly.

As a cormorant might hover over the water looking for fish.

* * *

He has breasted the Arctic blasts and snows.

He has sweated in the jungles of Asia.

He has seen Africa and Australia and India and China and Thibet.

He knows the Indian with his curry and the Esquimaux with his blubber.

* * *

He has seen the South Sea Islands perhaps.

And written of them.

For he who runs may write.

Just as he who runs may read.

And perhaps he knows as much of the lands of which he writes as the hovering cormorant knows of the wonders of the sea.

* * *

And then there is the dreamer.

He says he knows life.

For he has read all of the poets.

Who deal with love and laughter and tears and sorrow and beauty and emotional things.

* * *

And so the dreamer says he knows life.

Because he has drunk deep of reading.

He has thrilled with the erotic and exotic and neurotic.

He has been a lotos eater.

* * *

And then last comes the pilgrim.

Who has traveled the highway.

Not as a student or a teller of tales or a dreamer.

But as a simple pilgrim.

Trying to find his way.

* * *

He has stumbled.

He has struggled and suffered and fallen.

Risen again and gone on.

Been hungry and cold.

And has been at times laughing and glad.

* * *

He has worked and sweated.

He has sorrowed.

He has been in pain.

He has wondered of his daily bread.

And then has known abundance.

* * *

He has loved and grieved and remembered and forgotten.

His heart is furrowed like his brow.

And his soul is scarred and seamed like his hands.

* * *

And if you ask him if he knows life he will probably reply:

"I do not know if I know it or not.

But I have lived it."

SONGS OF THE POETS

"I Saw the Clouds"—By Hervey White (1866 ——)

I saw the clouds among the hills
Trailing their plumes of rainy gray,
The purpose of the woods behind
Fell down to where the valley lay
In sweet satiety of rain,
With ripened fruit, and full filled grain.

I saw the graves, upon the plain,
Of pioneers, who took the land,
And tamed the stubborn elements
Till they were gentle to the hand.
Their children, now in fortune's ways,
Dwell in their father's palaces.

I saw some old forgotten lays;
And treasured volumes I passed by
They were but repetitions cheap
For any hucksterer to buy.
The clouds, the graves, the worn old song,
I bear them in my heart along.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

FOR WATSON'S EXPULSION

[Charleston News and Courier, Dem.]

Senator Watson of Georgia has now attacked not merely the administration of the American army in France during the war, he has attacked that army itself. Nor has he stopped there. He has said an infamous thing about the American women who went to France as nurses, women whom the American people admire and honor and the story of whose heroism and sacrifice they cherish.

It does not seem to us that any investigation of Watson's charges is necessary or should be made. To assume even for an instant that his charges are warranted is to share his responsibility.

There is only one action which will suffice. No reprimand, however severe, could meet the requirements. Undoubtedly Watson should be expelled from the senate forthwith.

LET THE TRUMPETS BLARE

[Louisville Courner Journal]

America loves Foch because he is a fighter. It admires Foch because he is a successful fighter. It holds Foch to its heart because, as a leader of our gallant American troops, he is a comrade and a blood-brother. Let the trumpets sound and the cymbals clash, let the cannon roar and the voice take up the welcoming tumult! Foch is in America! Let us show him our love for his great work, not only by earth-shaking noises and the eye and voice that bespeaketh the warm heart, but by preserving him from indigestion!

WHERE UNCLE SAM IS WEAK

[Buffalo Express]

We are tired of seeing weak or wicked state governments wink at lynchings and entirely in favor of letting the federal government try its hand. But if the United States doesn't try harder than it tries to enforce the provisions of the constitution conferring the suffrage on negroes, conditions will not be improved very much.

A GOOD MAN TO TIE TO

Jud Tunkins says the reason some orators have so much respect for the name of George Washington is that it is always good for a round of applause.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA M. STEWART

There aren't many of us who wouldn't eagerly accept success could it be handed us on a silver platter. But too many times we think that because we have heard that the world owes us a living we can sit down peacefully and let her pay. The world isn't that kind of a debtor. She's the common or garden variety that wants to be urged and coaxed to do her share. It's the kind of a debt that must be collected—with much effort on our part.

Somewhere, somehow, in the fruitful years before the present lean ones, values became wofully mixed in our minds. We put that of ease before that of labor; that of enjoyment above striving towards ideals. We thought, did not stop to think at all, that our mixing thus would permanently settle such questions. Why should we not feel ourselves infallible, our intelligences superwise? Had we not accomplished wonders through the last decades? Invention after invention, discovery after discovery, adaptation after adaptation—these had rapidly come. We grew cock-sure of ourselves.

But one thing we had forgotten. We had forgotten that humanity cannot change the immutable laws of the universe. We may ignore them, we may declare they are not there, we may be innocently ignorant of them. But sooner or later they pop up, like a jack-in-the-box, to confound us, and to prove our puny strength of body or of intellect, to say sternly, "Thus far, and no farther!"

Success has always meant hard work—the real variety. It always will. Sucess has always meant perseverance and high ideals and single-minded effort—it always will.

We can have it—if we pay its price.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

Two policemen of Los Angeles recently have been murdered, presumably by bandits. At least they were killed by desperadoes, while in line of duty. The assassins got away. At this writing it is said that they "are surrounded," "that escape is impossible." Old stuff.

Perhaps the forces of the underworld are getting too strong for the forces of law and order.

Why were two faithful policemen shot down? The question is not difficult. They had sought to interfere with criminal activity. Criminal activity is encouraged in many ways. In Los Angeles, and perhaps in other places, it is encouraged specifically by the refusal to hire police numerically adequate. The few police available may all be faithful, even as the two latest victims were faithful, but they cannot cope with the great army of crime. Councilmen have figured out that to hire police would cause a deficit.

There is a deficit in the family of the late Patrolman Brett, and another in the family of the late Patrolman Clester. Let the councilmen figure on these for awhile.

But supposing that a criminal be caught, what then? Suppose that he is caught under circumstances making his guilt certain, what of it?

Nothing, except that criminal lawyers will try by trick and device to defeat justice; that they freely will suborn perjury; that they are ready to become virtually accessories after the fact, and share the spoils. They can make a trial long, costly, marked by needless delays.

If the verdict should be against their client, there remains the chance of probation. Should probation be denied, the prospect of parole takes the edge from the dread of penalty.

Crime flourishes because criminals are not punished. Criminals are bold because they have nothing to fear.

Now that the penitentiary doors have closed on Mrs. Peete, it is to be desired earnestly that no more currency be given to the silly twaddle that she has a story to tell. The promised yarn is heralded as others from the same source had been, as sure to clear up the mystery of the Denton murder.

There is no mystery to be cleared up.

Mrs. Peete slew the man, took possession of some of his property and tried to get more. She was saved by her sex alone from the discomfort of being hanged.

There is the truth, told briefly.

The woman who shot an intruder in her home because he already had killed her husband, as she thought, and intended to kill her, as she had grounds for believing, is still in jail for some reason. It is said she "declines to change her story."

Indications are that the woman told the truth. The wisdom of changing it at official suggestion is not quite clear.

MRS. CORA J. STEWART'S UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

Mrs. Cora J. Stewart entertained Thursday evening a group interested in occult development, including Francis Grierson, inspirational pianist, who gave a program as it came to him "from the infinite," interspersed with talk on vibrations and the laws governing fundamental principles of life.

When it was time for music the lights were extinguished with the exception of one envelope din blue, and in this violet twilight a program of descriptive music was given which was inspiring.

The musician is said to have first manifested this gift of inspirational playing at the age of seven years, and says he has never received instruction. His secretary, Waldemra Tonner, decalres he never repeats a program, and never knows what will come to him.

At the conclusion of the recital Dr. Frank Riley, head of the New Thought society in this city, who was one of the guests, supplemented what Mr. Grierson had said in regard to vibrations and the curative effects of music especially on shell shock and mental disorders, saying that experiments along this line are being conducted at Columbia university in New York. He mentioned the ideograph invented by an English woman to test the voices of her music pupils and consisting essentially of a piece of vellum stretched over a cornucopia shaped form, the face of the vellum being covered with a paste product. To the astonishment of the inventor she discovered that under the vibration of notes these paticles assumed forms, one note forming a pansy, another a daisy, developing in variety and complexity with the development of the music.

In explaining the performance of Mr. Grierson, Dr. Riley cited the phonograph, which makes a perfect record of the sounds to which it is subjected, and if the record is preserved, those sounds can be reproduced whenever there is a reproducing instrument. So in the spiritual ether, everything that has ever been created is preserved and can be brought forth whenever there is a reproducing instrument Francis Grierson, he said, is the reproducing instrument who is able to recall the songs of Chladeans, the ceremonial chants of the Egyptians. In the terminology of Theosophists, he "steps it down" through the higher menatl, the lower mental, the astral body to the physical body, into which it flows and which reproduces it.

The company included last night Dr. and Mrs. Frank Riley of Hollywood, Mrs. George Burton, Mrs. Mary C. Beauchamp, Dr. and Mrs. Vacher and Miss Gloria Beresford of Glendale, Copeland Bradford, Mrs. Holcomb and Miss Lorena Lockett of Los Angeles, Dr. Rife of San Bernardino, Mrs. Kate Gearhart and daughter, Miss Bessie May Gearhart, her house guest, Miss Bessie Tasker of Washington, Mrs. Anthony Parsons of Glendale, Francis Grierson, L. Waldemar Tonner and the hostess, Mrs. Cora J. Stewart.

SISTERHOOD CLASS ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS

The Sisterhood class of the First Methodist church entertained their husbands and friends at the church banquet hall Thursday night, a very nice dinner being served at 6:30. Covers were laid for 135. Mrs. C. E Russell was in charge of the dining room. The decorations were in Christmas colors, with a large centerpiece of greenery and poinsettias over which hung a large Christmas bell. Other decorations were red carnations, and at each place were Christmas place cards.

The serving was quite informal, as the tables were set complete, even to the dessert, making it possible for everyone to sit down together like one family. The tables were placed at angles from the center out which gave a very pretty effect.

After the dinner the entertainment committee, composed of Mrs. C. H Hallett, Mrs. W. A. Maxwell and Mrs J. Lampert, took charge of the program. The first number was two piano solos by Mrs. Nettie Campbell This was followed by the Sisterhood class quartet, consisting of Mrs. Mark Russell, Mrs. Z. P. Boicourt, Mrs. C. E. Russell and Mrs. B. F. Deiger, who sang three songs, the words being written by the class poet and president, Mrs. Mark Russell. These were written for the class and were very fitting. One number was to the Brotherhood class, which consists of the husbands of the members of the Sisterhood class, another to the church and the last one to the Sisterhood class. Following this was a "get acquainted" game, Mrs. T. A Wright and her committee in charge who requested the guests to stand in groups according to their home state A good many states were represented. They were then requested to furnish something for the program and some very interesting numbers were given by the different groups. It was decided by the judges that the Indiana group were the winners of the contest, the prize awarded being the privilege of furnishing something for the "get acquainted" game at the next party. The flowers that were used in decorating were made up into bouquets and sent to the sick.

BAPTIST WOMEN SEW FOR MISSION

Members of the Baptist Women's Union met at the church Thursday morning to do Christmas sewing for the Cosmopolitan Mission in Los Angeles and following a luncheon served at noon, enjoyed an afternoon program of entertainment.

Mrs. E. E. Ford presided at the business session which preceded the program at which officers reported and devotions were led by Mrs. G. F. Adams and Mrs. McKee. Mrs. King, head of the white cross work, reviewed the accomplishments of the past month. Mrs. Ford reported that the barrel of fruit collected by the Union had been sent to Arizona Indians for a Christmas treat.

The secretary, Mrs. Bright, read letters from Mrs. O. L. Howard and Mrs. W. F. Wood and family.

Mrs. J. Roger Bentley then took charge of the program which included a number of special numbers by the children of members. Little Margaret Chase sang "I Love My Old Doll Best" and gave two recitations; Donald Bentley played a piano number, "The Peasants' Frolic;" Nellie Rowe told a Christmas story and gave a reading; Mrs. Walter Stamps told of Christmas in other lands; Wesley Kent and Howard Smith played a saxophone and piano duet.

At the conclusion of this program Mrs. Ford urged the co-operation of parents in the definite work the juniors and intermediates are doing and spoke of her pleasure in working with children. The children were given candy canes as a treat when the meeting was dismissed.

Mrs. Crisler made a nice talk in which she told of visits to the various corps in California, declaring she is beginning to feel very much at home in this state. To her Mrs. Houdyshel presented a very beautiful bouquet with a word of greeting from the corps.

Miss Sweet then told of her work among disabled soldiers of the G. A. R., and the world war, and of the many things needed for their comfort. To her Mrs. Crisler presented the bouquet she had just received, with the request that it be passed on to some sick soldier who, she felt, needed the pleasure and cheer it would afford more than she does. Miss Sweet and her co-workers are exceedingly busy just now with Christmas work for veterans, old and young.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

HARRY RIMMER WAS GUEST AT HI Y CLUB

Noted Athlete Here Addresses Students on Big Subjects

Harry Rimmer, noted Pacific coast athlete, was the guest of the Glendale Hi Y Club Thursday, speaking before a boys' assembly at the high school and again in the evening at the Baptist church, where he was the after-dinner orator at a banquet to members of the Alhambra, Burbank and Glendale Hi Y clubs.

At the school, Mr. Rimmer's talk on "The Measure of a Man," gave the different standards by which a man is measured. He kept his audience in a constant uproar by his special type of wit and humor. After citing up his argument by declaring that the Christ standard is the real and only standard, charging the boys to live up to their belief and faith, be it Catholic, protestant, Jew or Gentile.

The banquet in the evening was one of the bright spots of Glendale Hi Y's year's program. Covers were laid for 95 boys and every place was taken. Twenty came from Alhambra and fifteen from Burbank.

The meeting was called to order by the Glendale Hi Y president, Dale Wood, who acted as toastmaster. Grace was pronounced by Karl Keeler of Alhambra.

After the meal had been served by the G. G. girls of the Baptist church, songs were sung by the company. Paul Edmonds then spoke a few words of welcome to the guests, the Hi Y presidents of Alhambra and Burbank—Carl Miller and Ralph Kriske, responding.

George Jordan on behalf of the clubs thanked the Baptist church and the ladies who had made the evening's entertainment possible.

Fred Stofft of Glendale Hi, football captain for 1922, responded to the call for a few remarks. Dale Wood then introduced the speaker, Harry Rimmer, who talked on "The Paths to Success." After dwelling on types of successful business men he contrasted with them the unsuccessful who stand around ready to take up bolshevism, I. W. W.ism and any old thing that comes along, bringing out the point of the large percentage of business men who are Christians, not because they are successful, but successful because they are Christians and have been so since their boyhood days. The same law applies to the opposite class, he declared, most of the failures being non-Christian.

As in his morning talk, Mr. Rimmer held his audience in rapt attention. He will be with the grammar school boys at their play festival in Puente on Saturday. This is one of the Y. M. C. A. county Y's activities and the Glendale groups who are attending will leave here at 1:30 o'clock accompanied by their leaders and by Secretary Rex Kelley.

The afternoon will be spent in play on the athletic field of Puente High School and will end with a monster wienie roast. From that the boys will go to assembly hall in the high school where Mr. Rimmer will talk to them and medals will be bestowed on the boys who won them at the Y. M. C. A. summer camp.

In engines not fitted with special valve stem guide bushings, excessive wear of the guide and consequently valve stem side play and oil leakage may be prevented by reading the guide and fitting a bronze bushing. The bushing may be obtained already machined from any supply house. In fitting, the valve should center on the tappet otherwise there will be a side thrust against the bushing, and it will wear eccentrically.

JARDINERE FELL STRIKING WOMAN

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—A claim for damages on account of injuries caused by a peculiar combination of circumstances, has been settled here out of court. The claim was brought by Mrs. Lester Favire against Dr. J. H. McKellar, a prominent eye specialist who conduct offices in Long Beach and Los Angeles. It appears that on the 29th of October there was a jardinere on the window sill of the doctor's reception room, placed there by the janitor or the office secretary. A patient accidentally struck the jardinere, which fell to the sidewalk five stories below, striking Mrs. Favire, who chanced to be passing, a glancing blow on the arm. Fortunately no serious injury was caused.

CHAMBER PLEADS TO GET MORE MONEY FOR FLOAT FUND

Every Citizen Asked to Give Something Toward Float

Several more citizens have responded to the call for contributions to the fund that is being raised by the chamber of commerce to be used in preparing a float as Glendale's entry in the Tournament of Roses pageant. During the past 24 hours, four donations of $5 each have been received and the names of the doners have been added to the roll of honor. The latest contributors are H. E. Noble, Glendale Feed & Fuel Co., J. C. Sherer and E. F. Sanders, The Thursday Afternoon Club contributed $5 to the fund. The amended roll of honor is as follows:

Tuesday Afternoon Club	$25
Herbert Smith	25
J. M. Rhoades	5
C. R. Snider	5
Thursday Afternoon Club	5
H. E. Noble	5
Glendale Feed & Fuel Co.	5
J. C. Sherer	5
E. F. Sanders	5
Dr. Roy V. Hogue	3
"A Friend"	1
J. A. Thayer	1
Gilbert Cowan	1
Paul Vissman	1

It is not the size of the donation that counts the most in this campaign for funds—it is the spirit that prompts the donation. A dollar from a man or woman who can only afford a dollar is appreciated as much as $10 from the man who can afford a $10 contribution.

A city is no greater than its civic pride and the magnitude of a float entered in this, the greatest and most widely known of all pageants, is an exact indication of the civic pride of any city.

Glendale has in the past two years won first prize at the pageant. L. W. Chobe, who is in charge of decorating the float, says that with the proper cooperation in the matter of funds he can produce a float that will make Glendale the third-time winner of the first prize. This cooperation is being sought among the people of Glendale and principally among those people who are not contributing to the chamber of commerce in any other way.

The float is not a chamber of commerce proposition and the credit for the float's success or the blame for its failure will not fall upon that organization. It will fall upon the people of Glendale—upon you, your neighbor and every other resident of this city.

A plea is made to every citizen to do his or her share to make the float the success it has been in former years. Contribute to the fund being raised for its production and when the Glendale entry passes in the line of the pageant on New Year's day, be able to say, along with the other contributors to the fund: "There goes my float—made possible by my contribution to the fund." Mail a check for the amount that you feel you can afford to J. M. Rhoades of the chamber of commerce. Mail it today.

Mrs. T. J. Keleher of 528 North Louise street, entertained three tables of bridge Friday, afternoon at the Ebell club in Los Angeles. During the afternoon a delicious luncheon was served.

Mrs. E. A. Stellar of South Pasadena, who has been a patient at the Glendale Research hospital, was taken home Thursday.

A little distilled water added at frequent intervals may obviate the necessity of a new battery.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

THE MESSAGE OF THE CLOCK

"If I can find the time," I said,
As by the minutes swiftly sped,
"If I can find the time, I'll do
The task before the day is through.
I'll lift the load, or speak the word
Or soothe the heart by sorrow stirred,
Or clasp the hand or write the rhyme,"
I said, "if I can find the time!"

And then I heard the little clock
Say Tick-tick-tick, tick-tock, tick-tock!
Look up at me, for here am I
With all my minutes ticking by.
And one for work and one for play,
And one for gladness by the way,
And one for help and one for cheer,
Tick-tock, tick-tock, the time is here!"

"If I can find the time," I said,
"I'll comfort the uncomforted.
I'll walk the ways of grief apart,
I'll try to cheer the aching heart;
I'll go where sorrow walks alone,
I'll dry the tear and hush the moan
And bring the song and wake the chime
Of bells if I can find the time."

And then the little clock said: "Tick!
Tick-tock! tick-tock! Go quick, go quick!
My minutes pass! Don't wait! Don't wait!
An hour from now may be too late!
The soul may sink if you not heed,
The heart may break if you not speed.
Go, put your strong hand to the plow!
The time is now! The time is now!"

And so I think you like clock.
The message of your tick, tick-tock
Is clear and I shall strive with more
Of purpose than I had before.
I shall not prate of when and how,
But know that Time is here and now,
And as your minutes ticking by
Shall hear you say: "Yes, here am I."

NEW COLLEGE HAS RECEIVED PAPERS

EDITORIALS
BY THE PEOPLE

(In view the campaign to determine the best location for the proposed high school, the following communication from Emil E. Steiner, a manufacturing pharmacist, is of interest because he has made a careful personal investigation and gives his unbiased opinion regardless of the fact that his home is at 680 West Broadway.—Editor).

Editor Glendale Press: A westsider gives his view in regard to the new high school site. A high school site should be chosen where it will benefit not only the majority, but it must be ideal from the students' stand-point. The west side has a wonderful business and industrial future. Too much noise for the students. They must have a chance to concentrate their minds to their studies. As a westsider I must concede that the Broadway-Verdugo site answers all purposes for the high school. Boost for Glendale, forget about your east and west.

EMIL E. STEINER,
680 West Broadway.

Editor Daily Press: In your issue of December 9 appears a report of the minutes of a city council meeting at which, as reported, the ex-city clerk was "ordered to turn into the treasury all fees received while acting as city clerk since July 1, 1921."

This is somewhat misleading as implying that the retiring city clerk did not make a settlement with the treasurer. Upon retiring from that office the undersigned promptly turned into the treasury all moneys received by him in his capacity as city clerk up to date.

A month later, however, he received from the auditor of the county a check for $40.25 payable to him personally for acting as local registrar of births and deaths under appointment of the state board of health. This sum was payable to him under state law for services rendered and is construed as being a personal perquisite in every sixth class city of the state of which the writer has knowledge. It is this sum whichi the city council is after. There is a possibility that under the new conditions existing under the charter the city will get the money, but it will be after the ex-city clerk has become convinced that his claim to it is not valid.

—J. C. SHERER.

MOUNTAIN SPRINGS ROAD IS CLOSED TO TRAFFIC NOW

San Diego County Engineer So Informs Touring Department

Engineer Wiggins of San Diego county, who is in charge of the construction work on the Mountain Springs grade, has sent the following message to the touring department of the Automobile club of Southern California:

"The main road on the Mountain Springs grade has been closed to all traffic. Barrier has been placed. Twenty men are at work on the detour and will exert every effort to put the detour in good shape in good time. The following regulations with regard to using old or main road will be placed in effect at once and will be rigidly enforced. No traffic will be allowed over the main road in the morning. At 1 o'clock daily, or as near thereafter as possible, the main road will be opened on the west end (near Jacumba) and all cars and trucks assembled at the barrier will be permitted to go over the main road. A truck operated by the engineer's department, will make the trip over the grade at this time and as soon as the engineer and his representative can reach the east end of the job (at Mountain Springs store) the barrier will be opened there and cars coming from El Centro will be permitted to come west. Any truck or car arriving at the west barrier waiting to go to Imperial valley, which arrives there after the road has been opened and closed will have to wait until such time as the road is opened again. If it is possible to open it again later in the day, the engineer will do so. If not possible to do so, the cars assembled must wait until the next day.

"At night red lanterns will be placed at the barriers at each end of the job. If those lights are burning it will indicate that the main road is closed. If the barriers are down and no red lights showing it will indicate that the main road is opened and may be used. These lights will be used only at night.

"Under the above conditions, it is recommended that all cars leaving San Diego for the valley shall leave in time to be at the western barrier, which is just east of Jacumba, at 1 p. m.

NOTED COMEDIAN HERE ON MONDAY

There is an atmosphere around the peculiar comedian, W. B. Patton, that signifies success. There is something about him that asserts itself in every character he creates. It is the force and artistic refinement of his methods that reach out over the foot-lights and compels admiration, and in the character of Felix Fox in his new comedy, "Chasing Sally," Mr. Patton has unlimited opportunities to display the wonderful magnetism of his personality. This mile-a-minute comedy fairly sparkles with wit and humor,

W. B. PATTON

the lines and situations put the audience in a state of bubbling expectancy, excitement, smiles until it finally explodes with roaring laughter. It is surely a comedy ten-strike. The kind of an uproarious success it is a relief to tell about, and will be seen here for one performance at the T. D. and L. theater on Monday night, December 12.

FAIRVIEW UNIT IS OPENED FOR SALES

The fifth unit of Fairview, a tract of beautiful land lying in the northwestern section of Glendale, has just been opened by Hamlin & Hepburn, one of the largest subdividers of land in the San Fernando valley. The four units which have already been entirely disposed of comprise several hundred lots, all of which were sold since the middle of the past summer. The section of land that comprises the various units of Fairview was, up to two or three months ago, given over to Barley fields and canteloupe patches. Since the first unit of Fairview was opened forty homes have been erected on this tract and it is the scene of forty peaceful and contented families. These forty homes constitute only a starter. Many more are in course of construction and plans are now being drawn for a large number of others. This fact proves that the buyers of lots in Fairview are securing this property with the intention of erecting homes for themselves just as soon as it is possible to do so. The Fairview tract is strictly a "home tract," a place where "regular home folks" are locating. It has everything that can be desired in the way of location, climate, scenery, etc.

This high class property is located in a beautiful part of northwest Glendale, right on the Pacific Electric tracks with two stops on the tract. Temporary homes under suitable restrictions are permitted on this tract, but the permanent homes to be located on this tract will be such as would be a credit to any section of this city.

The various units of Fairview are located in the section which was annexed to Glendale recently, and to the firm of Hamlin & Hepburn must go much of the credit for this northwesterly section coming into Gendale on such a decisive vote. In subdividing these various units of Fairview this firm has done much to assist in the building up of Glendale.

The fifth unit of Fairview is being placed on the market at prices as low as $475 per lot, with a cash payment of $50 and $15 per month. During the opening sale of this unit a discount of 5 per cent from the prices named will be given. To reach this tract drive out West Broadway and San Fernando road to Vine avenue, then one block to right to tract office at Vine and Fourth street.

Clarence G. Wilson of 208 West Eulalia street is seriously ill at the Glendale Research hospital.

Mrs. F. A. Hermon of 529 Vine street, was operated on this week at the Glendale hospital and is reported getting along nicely.

Mrs. James Mayo of Van Nuys will be the over-Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. Carl J. Seubert, 309 East Elk avenue.

Frank Merrick, of 212 North Verdugo Road, who has been confined to his home on account of illness for the past week, is able to be up again.

This remarkable subdivision has attracted widespread attention. The first four units have been sold since mid-summer, three of them since October 1.
Where there were barley fields and cantaloupe patches two months ago, there are now forty homes completed or under construction and new ones starting every day.
This high class property is located in the West end of the City of Glendale, directly on the Pacific Electric line, with two stops on the Tract.
Anyone who investigates cannot fail to appreciate that the prices for lots in FAIRVIEW are ridiculously low for this class of property.
It is being sold to people who are building homes which makes for population and consequent increase in values.
Temporary homes under suitable restrictions are permitted. Come out to FAIRVIEW Saturday afternoon or Sunday. Bring $50.00 and get a lot.
Drive out West Broadway and San Fernando Road to Vine Avenue (opposite F. L. Meneley Window Shade Factory), then one block to right to tract office at Vine avenue and Fourth street, or phone and we will call and take you out to the tract. The Tract Agent is on the ground every day.
